

FOURTH DAY'S RACES ENLIST SMALL FIELDS

Feature Event, One Mile and a Furlong Dash for Gentlemen Riders, Captured Easily by D'Arkle-Killochan, Running Game Uphill Race, Lands Second Place, With Rectortown Poor Third.

About ten thousand people saw the fourth day's racing at the State Fair meet yesterday, the card offering seven events.

The fourth day racing card did not offer as large fields or as hard-fought events in either the harness or running classes as did that of Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday. While the audience today was not so large as the record-breaking one of Richmond Day, still the farmers' day contingent packed the grandstand and lined the fences with dense masses of struggling humanity, who elbowed and crowded and shoved each other in their attempts to get vantage-places from which to view the speed contests of the equine performers.

Down in the paddock the sporting element crowded around the ponies, looking them over, comparing the good points of the different thoroughbreds and figuring on their chances of winning or of landing a place in some event of the day. Here and there a jockey and his mount moved around, giving tips to their friends and acquaintances, putting them next to "be sure things" for some race, and advising them where and how to lay their bets so as to come in on the money. Stable boys, groomers and hostlers worked over their charges, rubbing them down, cleaning their coats like satin, working over muscles and tendons till they were soft and pliant and springy, testing bridles and saddle-girths and girths, in readiness for the coming contests.

Out on the tracks the harness horses in the hands of their alert, watchful drivers were being warmed up to their strenuous work, at first slowly jogging around the big oval; then as the blood coursed faster through their veins with the exercise and motion, they were speeded along at racing clip and in the proper condition for the hard work out for them in the heat races soon to be called. The scene was indeed a pretty one, with the changing kaleidoscope, yet ever harmonious, intensely interesting and attractive.

When the gong sounded the second time, calling the 2:27 trotters to the wire for starting instructions, only three entries appeared. Baron Fuller, Ben Hur and Red Maggie. The horses went away well bunched for a pretty start and came in fighting it out all the way down the stretch and right up to the wire for places. Baron Fuller winning out from Ben Hur by a nose, with Red Maggie well up. The other two heats were easy for Baron Fuller, the other two horses coming in in the same order as in the first heat. The 2:15 pace brought out a field of five starters. After a closely contested first heat, which was won by Marguerite, who beat Progo in a drive by head, the next two heats went to Hawthaway's bay mare, easily giving her three straight heats and the race.

The free-for-all called for a classy start, with Ed. Balf won the race in straight heats with Dr. Madara second, Bad News third, and Dr. Marvin fourth. This same order of finishing was preserved throughout the heats, and the money division of the purse, of course, followed in the same way.

The one-mile and a furlong for gentlemen riders was contested by five starters. All of the horses got off well bunched, with the exception of Killochan, who went down at the barrier, and when he had recovered from his head break the rest of the field had a lead of several lengths on him. D'Arkle, the favorite, was leading at the far turn by about four lengths, with the

U. VA. READY FOR DAVIDSON GAME

Changes in Team Expected to Work Well—Presbyterians Have Strong Eleven.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., October 8.—Tomorrow Virginia will run into what is expected to be a tough proposition when the men line-up against the Orange and Blue tie game on Lambeth Field. Davidson is said to be the pick of the whole team back this season. At any rate, it is a very fast and heavy bunch. The team has been out for practice three weeks long, and the players are in the best of condition. The play will be fast and furious from the opening whistle in the premaria contest to be played on the home grounds.

The Virginia team has not been putting up its best possible game as yet by any means, but a great deal has been done this week, and it is safe to predict that the eleven which faces the Presbyterians tomorrow will be in condition to stay with them from the word go. Many expect Virginia to win by two touchdowns.

There is some speculation as to the probable line-up of the team tomorrow. The consensus of opinion seems to be that Stanton, the swift, Callornian, will go in at half back, and Honaker will resume his old position at quarter. Such a shift with Neff at left end would result in a combination which would prove very advantageous.

Honaker and Stanton are both great open field runners, and with two such ends as Neff and Bowen, there would undoubtedly be a splendid opportunity for long runs. The college at large will watch to-morrow's battle with great interest to see how the new arrangement will work. The coaching by "Bob" Williams and Rice Warren has aided materially in rounding out the team, as there is an abundance of good material, and the principal need is for more individual attention, which Head Coach Cooke alone can scarcely give with such a large squad on his hands. The squad is spending the entire afternoon until after sunset on the field every day now in strenuous preparation for the coming struggles. The daily games between the "varsity" and the scrubs are showing up some excellent new material. Ducker, B. Dabney, Smith and Powers are doing good work, and while the line-plunging of Dick Wilson, who played on Randolph-Macon four years ago, is of a high order.

DAVIDSON IN GOOD FORM

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DAVIDSON COLLEGE, N. C., October 8.—The football season opened on last Saturday with the Deaf and Dumb Institute, of Morganton, N. C. The game was played on the home grounds, and was witnessed by a large audience. Many coming from Charlotte in buggies and automobiles to see the game. The visitors were easy for the college, and the score was 22 to 0. The Davidson team this year appears to be rather light, and some fumbles were made in the early part of the game. As a whole, however, they showed up well, doing credit to the training of Coach Levine, of Yale, who has been hard at work with his squad of between sixty and seventy. The second game of the season resulted in a victory for Davidson over the North Carolina Medical College by a score of 12 to 0. The next game is scheduled for the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, on Friday of this week.

TRANSYLVANIA IS WON BY FAVORITE

Spanish Queen Easily Lands the Most Valued Light Harness Stake Race.

LEXINGTON, KY., October 8.—The Transylvania, the most prized stake for light harness horses, was easily won today by the overwhelming favorite, Spanish Queen, owned by G. H. Estabrook, and driven by Gus Macey.

The pacing division of the futurity was unfinished, and goes over until tomorrow. Summaries: 2:16 trot—Lady Jones first, Maxine second, Harry Banning third. Best time, 2:07 1/2.

First race—pacing division of Kentucky Futurity, for three-year-olds; value $2,000—Catherine Direct first, Colonel Forest second, Zom Brewer third. Best time, 2:13 1/4.

2:27 trot, purse $1,000—Paderewski first, Jack McKerron second, Nancy Gentry third. Best time, 2:13 1/4.

WEST END WINS

The West End S. A. A. and Church Hill S. A. A. played a game with two picked teams at Broad Street Park yesterday. The game on a whole was slow and uninteresting, but at times both teams played excellent ball. The West End team was more fortunate in mixing their hits with errors of the Church Hill team, while Gwathmey, for the West End team, was steady with men on bases.

The line up: West End S. A. A.—Gwathmey, pitcher; Clarke, catcher; Phillips, second base; Beverly, first base; Vanderpelt, third base; Chenault, center field; Roy, left field; Whitfield and Sutton, right field; Gwathmey shortstop. Church Hill S. A. A.—Curtis, center field; Redford, pitcher; Meade, left field; Burdon, right field and first base; Jenkins, third base; Gathright, second base; Sears, second base; Terry, shortstop; Austin, catcher and right field.

Score by innings: R. H. E. West End 2 3 0 1 0 2 3 11 9 5 Church Hill 2 2 0 0 0 0 0 4 7 6 Summary: Three-base hits—R. Gwathmey, Stolen bases—Vanderpelt, Whitfield, Jenkins, Terry. Hit by pitched ball—Sutton. Bases on balls—Off Redford, 2; off Gwathmey, 2. Struck out—By Redford, 5; by Gwathmey, 7. Passed balls—Austin, 5; Burdon, 1. Time of game, 1:35. Umpires, Messrs. Butler and Pettis.

MC GUIRE'S PLAYS ACADEMY

The first game of the Inter-Prep. School League will be played at Broad Street Park to-day at 4 P. M. The teams are evenly matched, and a close and hard-fought battle is expected. These two teams have had the advantage of thorough training by competent college coaches.

Corbett to Train Here

Young Corbett will train here for his coming fight with Leach Cross. Charles May Redford, who has been the former champion in form in this city, and hope to soon have him in condition for the bout. Manager E. C. Grinnell is negotiating for training quarters, and either Lakeside or Forest Hill Park will probably be selected for a suitable arrangement can be made.

CINCINNATI, O., October 8.—Beginning Saturday, October 9th, the baseball season of 1909 will be played at Detroit, which have just won the closest recorded contest for the championship of the National and the American Leagues, will meet at Detroit to enter on a series of games for the baseball championship of the world.

But one game will be played at Detroit before the scene shifts. The Sunday and Monday contests go to Chicago, while the Tuesday and Wednesday games are to be played at Detroit, and the sixth game, if one is necessary, will be played at Chicago. There have been some additional rules adopted governing such contests, one of which provides that neither of the contending clubs shall be permitted to pay a bonus or prize to any or all of its players who may take part in the series either before or after the game has been completed.

The National Baseball Commission will be in charge, but the immediate control of the games is given to two umpires from each league. All games will start at 2 P. M. For the National League, Umpires Chas. and Evers were designated by President Pulliam, while President Johnson, of the American League, named Sheridan and Connolly to represent his organization.

All the rules heretofore adopted by

DETROIT READY TO ACCOMMODATE MOB

Park Will Be Able to Seat Nearly 20,000 in World's Championship Series.

DETROIT, MICH., October 8.—Interest was intense in Detroit this afternoon in the game between New York and Chicago to decide the world's championship. Manager Jennings was disappointed at the defeat of his friend, Manager McGraw, but glad of the opportunity to again meet the Chicago team and endeavor to wipe out the crushing defeat administered by Chicago last year.

The news that the series will open here next Saturday was a surprise, as it was generally thought the first game would be played in Chicago. President Navine, of the Detroit Club, said: "We will have to hurry, but we will have everything at Broad Street Park in readiness for Saturday. We will be able to seat between 15,000 and 20,000. In addition to the regular stands I have ordered circus seats from Chicago, which will accommodate 10,000."

cago plainly showed it. Sheppard, the first man up, started out. The cheering greeting of this beginning was in striking contrast with the game's end when the home team rushed across the diamond to their clubhouse.

The two great innings were the third and the seventh. In the former Chicago made all its runs. In the latter opening with tremendous enthusiasm following the shouted slogan, "The Giants' lucky seventh"—hopes were renewed, but died after one run had been scored.

Sheppard began auspiciously for New York by failing to solve Mathewson's curves. Then Evers went out on a fast stop by Herzog to Tenney. Schulte struck out; no runs.

New York scores in First. New York to bat. Tenney was hit with the ball and went to first. Herzog got a base on balls. Bresnahan struck out. Kling muffed the ball at first. Evers started for first. Kling muffed plainly nonplussed Herzog, who broke for second, but seeing Bresnahan stop, he turned and tried to regain first.

Kling was too quick for him, and by a wonderful throw to Chance at first, Herzog was out. Ten feet from the bag. Then Donlin knocked a two-bagger and Tenney scored.

Chance strenuously but vainly protested that the two-base hit was a foul. Seymour was given a base on balls. Pitcher Pfeister was in a tight position, so Chance took Pfeister out of the box, putting in Mordecai Brown. Devlin struck out.

First inning—Chicago, 0; New York, 1.

Second inning—Chicago: Chance singled to right, but was caught off first. Mathewson to Tenney. A protest came this time from Hoffman, who continued to talk and was finally ordered off the field. Then Moran, who went to the coaching box, began more talk, and he, too, was promptly banished.

Play resumed. Steinfeldt struck out. Howard went to bat in Hoffman's place and likewise struck out.

Chicago's Four Runs Score. The third was more eventful. Tinker's beautiful three-bagger to deep center started the run-getting for Chicago. Kling then singled to left and Tinker came home amid great cheering. Brown grounded out to Tenney, advancing Kling to second. Sheppard fled to Seymour, who made a spectacular throw, holding Kling on second. Then Evers went to first on balls. Schulte doubled to left, scoring Kling, and Chance's two-bagger to right scored Evers and Schulte. Steinfeldt struck out. These were Chicago's four runs; the Westerners got no more, but they were enough.

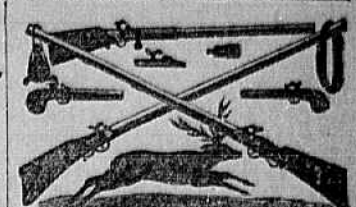

New York made two hits in their half, but failed to score.

The contest then seemed to have resolved itself into a question of which side could go out the fastest for the next inning.

Now the "lucky seventh," but it was not "the lucky" for New York. The Chicago batters were quickly dispatched in their half.

It was in their half the fans took up their famous war-cry, "Giants' lucky seventh," and New York went to bat.

One Run in the Lucky Seventh. Devlin singled to left-center, and McCormick hit safely to right for a base. Then Bridwell got a base on balls, and all the sacks were taken. He was where everybody held his breath. At this critical juncture, when

CHICAGO CROWDS WILD OVER RESULT

Outcome of Game With New York Received With Joy in Cubs' Home City.

CHICAGO, ILL., October 8.—News of Chicago's victory over New York today, assuring the National League pennant to this city for the third successive year, was received with wild jubilation by the crowds watching the bulletin-boards and tickers.

By capturing this year's pennant Chicago defeated Detroit for the world championship. President Murphy has greatly enlarged the stands in the stadium, and the crowds watching the game will, it is said, reach twenty thousand persons.

Scores of telegrams of congratulation were sent to Chicago. President Murphy, of the Chicago team, and Manager Frank Chance at New York. Special trains will take delegations of Chicago "rooters" to Detroit for the opening game.

The baseball game at New York stopped the whole political endeavor at Democratic national headquarters for two hours this afternoon, and when Charles W. Bryan, seeking campaign information, dropped in on the news, Chairman Mack and inquired the latest news from New York, the chairman replied: "I have just heard that Chicago 'rooters' to Detroit for the opening game."

Whereupon Mr. Bryan, who is an enthusiastic sportsman, what he thought of the chances of Detroit against Chicago in the world's championship series. The game in New York was the only subject of conversation at headquarters this afternoon, and the national chairman was compelled to confess to the newsman that the baseball situation was all he cared to discuss. Heads of the various bureaus made vain efforts to work while the game was in progress, but finally gave up the attempt and stole away to some convenient tucker.

It is not likely that Mr. Bryan's information for the rest of the campaign will be made public for several days, as the schedule in its present form is only tentative.
